Book of the Month:

A Short History of Nearly Everything
by Bill Bryson

In characteristically humorous style, Bill Bryson explains aspects of the scientific world in ways you only wish your high school science teacher had. Using amusing anecdotes about the men and women who made scientific discoveries that changed the way we look at the world, Bryson entertains, educates, and makes you want to learn more. Pick up A Short History of Nearly Everything next time you visit the library!

Young Adult Book of the Month:

The Ranger's Apprentice: The Ruins of Gorlan by John Flanagan

The Kingdom of Araluen is at peace 15 years after a horrific war with the evil Morgarath, former Lord of Gorlan and for young Will it is time for him to choose his path for the future. When he is apprenticed to the Ranger Halt, he learns the secret ways of the spies of kingdom and also learns that the peace with Morgarath may soon be over. Filled with adventure, cleverly written characters, and a fast moving plot, this first book in the series is a great read.

Library Tools: Wowbrary

Want to know what's new at the library? Wowbrary is an online newsletter published each Wednesday that lists the newest books, movies and music available at your library. You'll be able to easily browse the newest titles at your convenience and whenever you spot something of interest, you'll be able to read summaries and reviews, click instantly to reserve it, and check it out at your convenience. And of course, like most everything else at the library, this service is free!

Also, if you're an Amazon.com shopper, you can support your library by simply following the link to Amazon.com, located in the upper right corner of the newsletter. Whenever you do this, Amazon will donate about 7.5% of your total purchase to the library, at no cost to you! Sign up today to receive your Wowbrary newsletter alerts by email. To do so, simply visit www.wowbrary.org and type zip code 48189 into the gray box in the upper left hand corner that says "see your library's latest" and follow the easy instructions. You may cancel your newsletter alert at any time, but we think you will really like this service!
